Dear,

Easy Blender Clean-Up.

Do you enjoy margarita's, malts, or mixed up sweets like fruit smoothies? Then chances are you have come to the sticky subject of cleaning up the blender. Soaking blender jar, disassembling, drying, and then reassembling. Why, it's enough to make you switch to diet cola in cans.

But wait, you don't have to give up the fun of the whirring blender. NO, instead, harness it's power to please and use it to clean up after the party too. Here's how.

Rinse the blender jar one time, the fill half-way with warm water. Add a few drops of liquid dishwashing detergent and run it for a moment, rinse, and let dry. Why not try this tip next time you're in the mood for fun, without the hassles of clean-up?
