Dave and I go back into the mid 70's when he was first getting started with training for real estate professionals. His witty approach & down to earth presentation shape his dialogues and scripts into tools you can use everyday. I still use ideas and stories Dave shared with our group the first time I heard him way back then. Over the years we have stayed in touch and during times that I have had responsibility for education ideas I have never hesitated to recommend Dave. Dave has never disappointed with his blend of humor and innovated ideas as the industry changes. He has been a favorite of our company, our board of realtors, and the Colorado Association of Realtors. I am proud to have helped him establish himself in these organizations.
